

BULL KAURI

ANSWER KEY

A bull kauri cone explodes and falls to the forest floor.

One seed sends roots into the soil and begins to grow.

The wet comes and the seed shoots.

A sapling of a bull kauri struggles for light on the forest floor.

The sapling grows to become part of the undergrowth.

The sapling shoots up into the understory.

The bull kauri is 100 years old and gum oozes from its trunk.

The bull kauri is 150 years old and 30 metres tall.

The bull kauri is 200 years old and the tallest tree in the rainforest.

Organises information in a chronologically ordered timeline

