

Ray was not happy with his life until he compared it with a real chook. List some of the reasons you have to be happy. Think about your parents, your family, your school, your friends, your home and draw a picture of the one thing you are most happy about your life.

A spiral-bound notebook with five blank lines for writing. The notebook is positioned horizontally and occupies the upper middle section of the page.

