A haiku is a traditional Japanese form of poetry in which each poem has just 3 lines. The lines are based on syllables rather than rhyme with the first line having 5 syllables, the second line 7 syllable and the 3rd line 5 syllables again.

Use the example below to make your own haiku about a T-Rex.

T-Rex Dinosaur
Was the fiercest of them all
In the Cretaceous